Hello,

Please find the information that we have managed to find from various records.

The VIN XXXXXXX shows that the car is a Saab 99 of Model Year 19XX and that the car was produced in Trollhättan, Sweden on the A-line.

The assembly of this Saab 99 MY19XX with this serial/sequence number, XXXXXX, started in the late part of November 25th 19XX. That was a Friday.

The original engine-number was XXXXX, gearbox-number was XXXXXXX and the key-number was XXXX. This was valid for the car at time of production in November 19XX but that could have been changed during the years if repairs or replacement have been made to parts.

Records also shows that the car had the following characteristics:

Body type #66: Saab 99, LHD, 3 door, with sunroof, Turbo.

Drivetrain type #70: Engine 2,0 SIM, Europe emissions (SIM - Supercharged Injection Manual).

Market specification type #405: 99 Europe Turbo.

Color code #XXX: XXXXXXXXXXXX metallic (with that came the Interior Bordeaux).

Importer #XXXX: XXXXXX and potentially the company XXXXXX.

Dealer #XXXX: Unfortunately we have no records of the dealers name or location, only the number.

According to unconfirmed records that the car was delivered and registered on December 30th 19XX.

XX units Saab 99 Turbo of Model Year 19XX were delivered to the importer in XXXXXXXXXX and this is one of them and represents a piece of classic Saab history.

Enjoy your Saab and we hope to see you come visit us here at the Saab Car Museum in the future.

Med Vänlig Hälsning / Sincerely Yours
